

Annual Report 2019-2020

Haiti South site Jérémie, Haiti

Chalice has been working in the communities on Haiti's southern tip since 2000, currently partnering with Missionnaires de l'Annonciation - Semeurs d'Espoir, an organization led by a religious Sister and staffed by religious brothers and lay associates. Haiti has been struggling with significant political upheaval and contracting economy. Food security is a primary and growing concern. The site supports several school canteens and lunch programs through Chalice's nutrition program. In schools that do not have a canteen, families receive kits of food to prepare at home. In the wake of the 2010 earthquake and Hurricane Matthew in 2016, Chalice supported several housing and water reconstruction projects throughout the area.
